ENTERTAINMENT AHOY!

Rogers and Grilley Will Appear Soon in Splendid Program.

Another splendid number of the Citizens' Lecture Course will be given in the College chapel, Wednesday evening, Jan. 17, by the popular entertainers, Rogers and Grilley. There probably has been no entertainment in recent years more successful in satisfying the better class of people than the recitals of these two men. Their programs have been selected with especial care, and embrace the best and choicest selections in the realm of literature and music. It is well known that the harp is especially adapted to the human voice, and with Mr. Rogers accompanying Mr. Grilley in his excellent vocal selections, the entertainment cannot fail to please.

Van Veenhoven Rogers has appeared in public concert ever since a mere child, having received his instructions from his father who was a gifted and skilled musician. Later he continued studies abroad, working under some of the most renowned masters of Europe, and upon his return to America was engaged as teacher in the New England Conservatory at Boston. At the same time he was harpist in various orchestras, chief among which was the Boston Festival Orchestra, directed by Emil Mollenhauer. Besides these distinctions he has been associated with the very best artists in America (continued on page three.)

Mrs. Clark Offers Prize.

Mrs. William Clark sprung an agreeable surprise on Mrs. Scott last Saturday by calling her up and announcing that she had decided to give a prize of five dollars to the student who will do the best work in drawing from the antique the current year. Mrs. Clark did the same thing last year, and the fact that she repeats the favor this year without solicitation is thoroughly appreciated by all the friends of the University. Mrs. Clark is herself a graduate of the studio.

GOOD "RIDING" SEASON

Otterbein's Literary Societies Gather In Goodly Number.

It has been recently noticed that the new students of last fall are beginning to enjoy a little privacy, as the "riding" season is about over. Some of the new men and girls who formerly could not possibly go to the postoffice alone are now free to go and come as they please. This year the "society question" has had both its commendable and disgusting phases displayed. There have been many who have told the new students to take their time and in the end to make their individual choice. On the other hand a certain few over-enthusiastic society champions have flattered, coaxed, begged and coddled the prospectives—dogged their steps, eaten with them and almost lived with them, until the "happiest ones" and every one else were heartily disgusted.

The four societies have admitted new members as follows:

Ciclorhetea.

Philaethea.

CHORAL WILL SING

100 Voices With Neddermeyer Artists Assures Great Concert.

The people in the local vicinity are again going to have the opportunity of enjoying another treat when Prof. Resler's choral society renders its concert in the college chapel on Jan. 24th. Mr. and Mrs. Resler have been training the choral society, composed of 100 voices, for the past semester and the concert promises to excel all past renditions under the leadership of the Reslers.

The choral society will be assisted by Neddermeyer and ten selected soloists from his famous concert company. The work of Neddermeyer and his selected orchestra will alone be well worth while; but that coupled with the choral will produce a musical feast on Jan. 24th.

The concert will be divided into three parts. The first of miscellaneous selections by the choral. The second part will consist of work mostly by the Neddermeyer orchestra. Neddermeyer himself will appear as a soloist with his famous violin, and Ferdinand Gardner will also render a special solo on the cello. The concert will be concluded by Longfellow's "Village Blacksmith." This rendition will be well worth coming to hear, as Neddermeyer will accompany the choral by his chimes and anvils.

Otterbein students and Westerville people may consider themselves fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing this concert.

President Talks.

President W. G. Clippinger addressed the Preble County Teachers' association at Eaton, Saturday. His themes were "Psychology of Habit" and "Meaning of Education."

7 A. M. Special.

A limited car now leaves Westerville each morning at 7 o'clock and will take on no passengers below Linden.

"THE PIERCES" APPEAR

Noted Reciters Pierce Enthusiastic Vein in O. U. Audience.

Before the splendid concert which was given last Tuesday night in the college chapel, "The Pierces" were known here by reputation; now they hold a high place in the opinion of Westerville people and Otterbein students on account of the extraordinary talent displayed by the entertainers and the remarkable merit of the recital presented.

Mrs. Pierce explained at the outset that the program was to be of a humorous nature and was to be composed of adaptations by themselves of real living characters which they had met. The selections were indeed interesting and particularly life-like. Mrs. Pierce's impersonation of a little girl was very effective, while Prof. Pierce pleased the enthusiastic audience by portraying the peculiarities of the shy lover and the rural character.

It is to be regretted that only a fair sized audience received the benefit of the entertainment as it was one of the best which has been presented from the Chapel platform. One of Otterbein's foremost exponents of public speaking and elocution was heard to say, "They (The Pierces) presented the best number given here this college year."

Sophomores Pull Taffy.

A general good time was indulged in by a large number of the Sophomore class when they met last Wednesday evening at the home of Misses Erma and Merle Martin, the occasion being a class party. A number of interesting and exciting games were played after which the main feature of the evening, a taffy pull, took place. This event afforded plenty of amusement for everyone, and without question everyone enjoyed it. Many thanks are due the Misses Martin for their hospitality.

The Varsity basketball five decidedly reversed their showing of a week ago and came back last Saturday by administering defeat to the Heidelberg team by a score of 49 to 23. The varsity showed marked improvement in team work over that displayed in the Findlay game. The visitors on the other hand seemed to be off color in team work and O. U. experienced little difficulty in winning the game. Heidelberg's chances for a better showing were greatly marred when their captain, Roth, in the first minute of play, fell and broke his wrist.

The coaching of Sanders displayed itself especially in the first half, when the five varsity men completely baffled their opponents by their team work, and scored 30 points to the visitors 10. The last half saw the entire second string of men in the game but yet O. U. continued to establish her superiority over Heidelberg.

It would be hard to pick any real stars for the locals, the entire team showing up in fine form. Rogers at center started the good work for O. U. by getting the bat-off, and Gammill and Campbell followed by scoring 6 and 7 baskets, respectively. The guards, Cook and Fouts, also displayed snappy work in passing and handling the ball, besides holding their forwards to three Manager Flora has secured a strong schedule for the O. U. basketball five and is giving the O. U. fans an opportunity of seeing some of the best teams in Ohio on the local floor. The management has been indeed fortunate in securing such teams as Reserve, Cincinnati and Marietta on the local floor. The biggest game of the season will undoubtedly be the Reserve game, which is scheduled for Feb. 16.

CHAFF.

"Babe" Seneff the greatest football center in O. U. history is here from Cincinnati visiting his Alma Mater. The big fellow is well known by all O. U. football men, as he is the one who always enthusiastically cheers for Otterbein at the Cincinnati games. Such loyal alumni are greatly appreciated by O. U. and his presence here is a welcome one.

The cheering of Otterbein was greatly improved in the last basketball game. "Cupe" Lambert, as cheer leader, instilled great enthusiasm into the rooters, and the baskets and securing an equal number themselves.

Darcy, the visiting forward, played best for Heidelberg, scoring 17 out of the opponents 23 points.

team greatly appreciates the spirit renewed.

It is rumored that Otterbein is going to have a strong baseball schedule this year. Such teams as Delaware, Wooster, Reserve and W. & J. will appear on the local diamond.

Last Saturday M. Ed. Gould of Westerville won no little prominence for his town when he took his party to Columbus and whipped all the city cracks in the snow race on Rich street.

To Bar Professionals.

The Eastern schools have met recently for the purpose of threshing out professionalism in college athletics, but even after a long and stormy session no definite plan was decided upon.

The Western conference will meet for the same purpose on June 26 and 27.

Outlaws Organize.

A new baseball league was organized in Chicago Saturday, known as the Columbian League. It will operate as an outlaw organization.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

State, Oberlin, Allegheny, Hiram and Penn. State Win.

Ohio, State 64, Kenyon 9.

Ohio State put it over Kenyon in a very one-sided game at Columbus, the score being 64 to 9. The Kenyon boys were completely out-classed, and at no time had even a look-in.

Oberlin 49, Wittenberg 11.

Oberlin easily swamped Wittenberg to the tune of 49 to 11. The visitors were lost on the big floor, and were entirely outclassed. Oberlin used many substitutes during the second period. Young and Miller starred for Oberlin.

Allegheny 41, Ohio Wesleyan 11.

Ohio Wesleyan lost to Allegheny at Meadville, Pa., 41 to 11. The visitors were plainly weary from long travel, though their passing was good. Hawk of Allegheny was the star of the game. Nichols also played well.

Hiram 26, Denison 21.

In one of the best basketball contests ever played on the home floor, Hiram college defeated Denison University 26 to 21. Hiram displayed superior team work and basket vision.

Penn. 21, Yale 13.

The University of Pennsylvania basketball team defeated Yale at Philadelphia by score of 21 to 13.

State Will Go West.

Dr. Wingert the athletic director of Ohio State has just returned from the West where he has succeeded in arranging a two-day basketball trip for State's squad. They will meet the University of Indiana on Jan. 29 and Wabash on Jan. 30.

Western Track Meet.

The Western conference will hold a championship track meet at Purdue university on June 1. No athlete who has ever taken part in meets under the name of any athletic club will be allowed to compete in this contest.

among whom his reputation is of the highest type. At present Mr. Rogers conducts a summer harp school at Round Lake, N. Y. where some of the most advanced pupils and teachers study under his direction.

Charles F. Grilley is a graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory in Boston and has been for seven years a member of the faculty of this college. He is well known as the author of many of the most popular songs and recitations used on the platform today and has been the recipient of many favorable comments from the leading publications of this country. Mr. Grilley has made over two hundred appearances in Boston, eleven of which were on the Boston Y. M. C. A. course. He has appeared three different times in nearly two hundred towns. To hear the original compositions of Mr. Grilley on the platform by the author himself is indeed a rare treat.

A combination of artists such as these cannot help but please and should receive the hearty support of every one. They present a program which is being commented upon in a most favorable manner by all the leading press publications wherever these entertainers have appeared. So one who expects to attend needs to think of hearing anything but the very best.

A REMARKABLE INCIDENT

Two People Saved by Timely Act.

What might have proved to be a great shock to any family happened last week, unexpectedly and without notice of any kind, not even a postal card. Aunt Mary and Uncle John (who are very wealthy), called on their niece, who has not been married very long, and Mary was so excited as she looked at the clock and saw it was nearly dinner time, and not a cent in the house as they had been compelled to spend every cent John had for furniture and other things needed to go to housekeeping.

But finally John came home. Mary saw him come through the gate and she hurriedly told him what a dilemma she was in and how humiliating it was going to be for both of them, when John, who is a good financier placed his arms around his little wife saying, "Don't worry, dear. I have made preparations for just such cases as this by buying a meal ticket at the Peerless Restaurant. "Oh, John, how thoughtful," said Mary.

Thus were two souls made happy.

Mr. Reader, form the Habit. Go to the Peerless at once and buy a ticket.

Too Much Doing?

Are there too many outside activities in Otterbein life? By "outside activities" is meant interests which do not come within bounds of the prescribed college course. A few weeks ago the possibility of satisfactorily harmonizing the various activities on the basis of scholarship was suggested in this column, but it has been maintained that there are more of the secondary interests than is conducive to good scholarship. In the words of one of the professors, "The secondary things are becoming first while the primary things are often regarded as side issues." It is a question in the minds of some whether the students themselves do not think that they are being compelled to divide their attentions among too many interests. Is it true? Are there too many things going on at Otterbein?

Students and professors, please answer this question through the columns of the Review.

Will the Girls Debate?

Some time ago a call was issued for all girls who wished to participate in intercollegiate debate. Eighteen girls immediately responded with enthusiastic zeal. Upon assurance of good material Coach Bale arranged for a triangular debate with Ohio university and Muskingum college. The regulations were made and the contract signed. The time is at hand for preparation; but where are the girls? The majority of those who agreed to enter the preliminaries have withdrawn. Not enough are left to furnish two good teams. Otterbein finds herself in an embarrassing position. Unless the girls do something quick the debates must be cancelled. O. U. will need to acknowledge that she cannot keep her contract on account of lack of either interest or material. The question is not, should we have girls' debates; but, should we recall our agreement?

It is natural to ask why the girls do not stand by their proposition. They were anxious to debate at first, and gave their word that they would actively participate in the try outs. What should they do now?

Shall Otterbein cancel the debates?

CLUB TALK

Editor Review:—

On the editorial page of last week's Review appeared the statement, "The power of an engine is measured by its supply of fuel—so is the force of the brain." I heartily disagree with the author in this. The power of an engine can not be measured by its supply of fuel. The engine may have an enormous fuel supply, but so long as no work can be obtained from it, it has no power. Its power is measured directly by the work it can do. Part of the fuel supply is utilized, the rest is lost through waste—that which is utilized is a measure of the power. Likewise the force of the brain can be measured, not by the knowledge given to it, but by that which it is able to give (this fact is very evident at examination time). A man's intelligence should not be reckoned by the number of years spent in colleges and universities, nor by the degrees obtained. One's mental force consists of that which he knows, can impart, and put in practice. C. F. Williams, '10.

Y. M. C. A. Considers Big Things

"Big Things" was the subject which Mr. G. D. Spafford presented to the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening.. Too much favorable comment cannot be made as to the manner in which the speaker treated this important subject.

Mr. Spafford began by saying that it is men's nature to admire big things; large colleges and organizations naturally attract our attention and win our respect. Not only do we admire big things but we also admire those who attempt to master big things. It is here that the speaker emphasized the central theme of his talk by stating that every man should be tied to some big thing. Many men give up promising careers that they may associate with some great work. Some suggestions were then made as to what might be considered great things, the union with which would be profitable to anyone. First among these was the cause of Christ, while others mentioned were the temperance cause, purity for men, political purity, international peace, and world wide missions. Mr. Spafford dwelt at some length on this last theme, first showing why one should specialize in the cause of missions, his reasons being that it was one of the chief teachings of Christ himself. Others reasons were that such work is altruistic, and the benefits are reciprocal. Some splendid suggestions were then given as to the manner in which one might go about this work, the first requisite being prayer, the second leadership, and then, as a result, one should not fail to go if the call should come.

The address was an excellent one and everyone who heard it could not help being profited by it.

W. S. Diggs Next Meeting.

Mr. W. S. Diggs of Cincinnati, who is engaged in the insurance business and who has been recommended by Mr. A. H. Lichty, will speak to the men next Thursday evening. Every man should be out to hear Mr. Diggs.

Rev. L. H. Shane Speaks at R. E. A.

Rev. L. H. Shane pastor of the Presbyterian church gave an excellent address to the members of the R. E. A. last Wednesday evening.

The speaker said in part that everyone should adopt a high motto for life; that we would be expected to assume the strategic place of leaders and in order to be successful we must run up the white banner of purity that others may safely follow. He illustrated how flags, in times past, that were raised above vessels, indicated for them good or ill. The black flag represented death, The red flag danger The yellow flag disease, the white flag peace. Leaders must have peace with God and man, live the pure life and raise the white flag so the world can read from their character and countenance that they have the divine approval of leadership.

The speaker emphasized very clearly and forcibly the need of tact for leadership. Many men of giant mind and strong physique fail because they lack tact in dealing with men. He closed his address by urging those who would assume the place of leaders to secure the very best possible preparation.

The address was instructive, inspiring, intensive and invaluable. It showed clearly that in order to be successful leaders, we must have high ideals, definite plans, and use tact and good common sense. The next regular meeting will be held the first Wednesday in February at which time the election of officers will take place.

MOSES & STOCK

'74. Dr. J. W. Clemmer, city health officer of Columbus tendered his resignation to the city board of health at a meeting of the board, Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Clemmer did not agree with the board in several respects, and said entirely too much politics entered into the affairs of the department.

'92. Rev J. W. Dickson, of Hayden, Colo., is at the home of his father, Rev. J. H. Dickson, 157 Norwich Ave., Columbus, who is seriously ill with a paralytic stroke. This is the second stroke and his condition is very grave because of his advanced age, 78.

'93 Raymond, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Pilkington, is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

'97. Mrs. C. R. Frankham is very ill with tonsillitis at her home, 41 North Champion Ave., Columbus. Mrs. J. W. Markley, her mother, is with her.

'97. "Davy" Seneff arrived in town from Cincinnati Friday to visit his brother B. L. Seneff. '94. The presence of his avoirdupois in the north end tilted up the south end of town, but "Davy" made up for it with his cheery smile.

'97. Milton H. Mathews, of Dayton and Miss Bess Miller of West Liberty were married on Dec. 21 at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. F. T. Miller. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. S. C. Bates, who was assisted by Bishop Mathews. They made a tour to New York after the wedding to see Bishop and Mrs. Mathews off for Porto Rico. Mr. Mathews is the president of the Thomas Mfg. Co., of Dayton.

'98. Mrs. Harriet Newcomb Frankenburg of Columbus is a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Jr., of Johnstown, Pa.

'01. Prof. and Mrs. James G. Sanders were recent visitors in Westerville while on their way to Wisconsin from Washington, D. C.

Otterbein Graduates are Prominent in Popular Movement.

Otterbein is taking a great interest in the Men and Religion movement. The graduates are becoming active in the work and the students are studying the movement with plans for the future. Otterbein furnished the founder of this great uprising of men, all over the country. Harry Arnold, who is the acknowledged to have had the first conception of this organization, is an old Otterbein man. Although he is not a graduate, he is a former student. Dr. Barbour of Brown University speaks in the highest terms of Mr. Arnold, who is now retired from active service on account of ill health.

Many other O. U. men are pioneers in the work. L. B. Bradrick, '98, has become assistant pastor of the Broad Street Presbyterian church of Columbus with the express duty of organizing the men of that big church in the M. and R. For over a year Mr. Bradrick has been religious secretary of the Columbus Y. M. C. A. and part of that time also executive secretary of M. and R. movement. For over a year he has given his time and energy to promoting that interest. Now, as pastor of the Broad Street church, he will organize the latent forces for aggressive service. We all wish Mr. Bradrick the greatest of success in the new and very important work.

Mr. Cox, '11, of Pittsburgh is greatly interested and is as active in the work as other duties will allow. R. K. Staley, '08, at Charleston, S. C., is also a worker in the M. and R. This movement is the great awakening of the church in the last few years and it is appropriate that the Otterbein Brotherhood is one of the participating organizations.

'05. It is now Thomas Edwin Hughes, Sr. Junior is now about a month old. He is assisting the Senior as secretary of the city Y. M. C. A. at San Francisco.

'08. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weaver, 26 West Frambes Ave., Columbus, announce the birth of a son, James Henry, Jr.

'09 M. E. Lutz spent last week at the Phalar home. He and Mrs. Lutz have left for the Hawaiian Looks Like Taft.

[Ohio State Journal]

"Mister President Taft, let me shake you by the hand," cried a man in the Chittenden hotel lobby yesterday afternoon as he advanced smilingly, with hand extended toward a man, who in appearance, is a somewhat small edition of the president. The man is T. B. Learned of Westerville, who is proud of the resemblance between the executive and himself. Scores of persons have been deluded into belief that Mr. Taft was in the city by seeing him in the hotel and in the streets.

LOCALS

Miss Etta K. Sayre, of Johnson, a former O. U. student, visited friends over Sunday.

Many of the students have been indulging in sleighing this week.

A number of students will hear Madame Eames this evening in Columbus.

Abe Glunt, Ralph Parent, and Art Lambert were Saturday visitors in Columbus.

Mr. "Cupe" Lambert is again boarding at the Annex. Lucile has gone.

The sophomores almost had a sleigh ride Friday night, following their precedent of last fall.

Miss Una Karg entertained Margaret Gaver and Hortense Potts at dinner Friday night.

COCHRAN HALL ITEMS.

The girls that went home this week were: Edith White, Margaret Gaver, Mabel Willis, and Evarena Harmon. So soon after the Christmas vacation very few go home.

Lonella Sollers entertained some of her friends by a house party at her sister's in Columbus. The girls had the time of their lives.

Friday evening Emma Muskopf had a birthday feast for Magdaline Zinsmaster. The girls toasted marshmallows in the sewing room, then popped corn and finally charmed the house with their songs.

Marie Huntwork and Clara Hendrix who used to be trouble makers at Cochran Hall were visiting with friends this week end. Teaching surely makes girls sedate and dignified.

Miss Simmons has left the Hall. She intended leaving at the end of the semester, but the serious illness of her mother called her home sooner.

OTTERBEINESQUES.

"Just a minute, old man! You're just the fellow I want to see."

"No, I'm not, I'm broke."

Figures won't lie, and often they won't stand. What are you going to do about it?

Dr. Sanders—"Do you paint, Miss Richards?"

Little blinding snow storms
Little winds that roar
Make our precious gas bills
Crawl up more and more.

Dr. Jones—"Name the four sons that were daughters of Bilhah."

He—"You think more of your dog than you do of me."

She—"Well, the dog growls less."

A defective hammoek has caused many lovers to fall out.

The boy stood on the railroad track

The train was coming fast
The boy stepped off the railroad track

The train went whizzing past.

Sandy—"I can't get a girl to take me seriously."

Paul—"You're lucky to get one to take you at all."

Prof.—"Why do you smoke?"

Perce—"I'm saving the cork tips to make a life preserver."

Judge—"What brought you here?"

Prisoner—"Two cops."

Judge—"Drunk, I suppose."

Prisoner—"Yes, both of them."

Dr. Will—"It's quite true there are microbes in kisses."

Martha—"Oh, the sweet little darlings!"

To remove paint—Sit on it before it is dry.

"How I miss those at home!" mused the center fielder as he threw wild at the plate.

Plott—"She winked at you, eh?"

Caldy—"Yes."

Plott—"What followed?"

Caldy—"I did."

Turks and Thirteen.

So great is the dislike of the Turks to the number 13 that the word is almost expunged from their vocabulary.

Why, it has not been ten years since we found that bricks could be laid differently than Pharaoh's masons built their walls.

In several European centers including France and Belgium elections are held on Sunday.
